About the survey

Government budget decisions – what taxes to levy, what services to provide, and how much debt to take on – have important consequences for all people in society. When governments provide information and meaningful channels for the public to engage in these decisions, we can better ensure public money is spent on public interests.

The Open Budget Survey (OBS) is the world's only independent, comparative and fact-based research instrument that uses internationally accepted criteria to assess public access to central government budget information; formal opportunities for the public to participate in the national budget process; and the role of budget oversight institutions, such as legislatures and national audit offices, in the budget process.

The survey helps local civil society assess and confer with their government on the reporting and use of public funds. This 8th edition of the OBS covers 120 countries.

Visit www.internationalbudget.org/open-budget-survey for more information, including the full OBS methodology, the 2021 Global and Regional Reports, findings for all surveyed countries, and the Data Explorer.

Transparency

This part of the OBS measures public access to information on how the central government raises and spends public resources. It assesses the online availability, timeliness, and comprehensiveness of eight key budget documents using 109 equally weighted indicators and scores each country on a scale of 0 to 100. A transparency score of 61 or above indicates a country is likely publishing enough material to support informed public debate on the budget.

Mali has a transparency score of 8 (out of 100).

Mali's transparency score of 8 in the OBS 2021 is substantially lower than its score in 2019.

What changed in OBS 2021?

Mali has decreased the availability of budget information by:

- Failing to publish the In-Year Reports online in a timely manner.

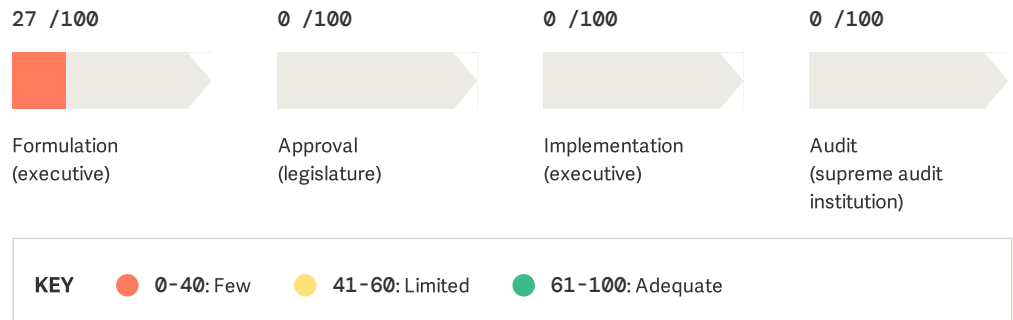

- Failing to produce the Executive's Budget Proposal (EBP). Per OBS methodology, an EBP is considered to be not produced in the event that the legislature has been dissolved.

Recommendations

Mali should prioritize the following actions to improve budget transparency:

- Publish the Pre-Budget Statement and In-Year Reports online in a timely manner.
- Produce and publish the Executive's Budget Proposal, Mid-Year Review, Year-End Report and Audit Report online in a timely manner.

Extent of opportunities for public participation in the budget process

Recommendations

Mali's Ministry of Economy and Finance has established public consultations during budget formulation but, to further strengthen public participation in the budget process, should also prioritize the following actions:

- Pilot mechanisms to monitor budget implementation.
- Expand mechanisms during budget formulation to engage any civil society organization or member of the public who wishes to participate.
- Actively engage with vulnerable and underrepresented communities, directly or through civil society organizations representing them.

Mali's National Assembly was dissolved in August 2020, and it is urgent that it be reinstated in order to restore the normal checks and balances of the budget process. After its reinstatement, furthermore, the following actions should be prioritized to improve opportunities for public participation:

- Allow members of the public or civil society organizations to testify during its hearings on the budget proposal prior to its approval.
- Allow members of the public or civil society organizations to testify during its hearings on the Audit Report.

Mali's General Control of Public Services should prioritize the following actions to improve public participation in the budget process:

- Establish formal mechanisms for the public to assist in developing its audit program and to contribute to relevant audit investigations.

Budget Oversight

The OBS examines the role that legislatures and supreme audit institutions (SAIs) play in the budget process and the extent to which they provide oversight; each country is scored on a scale from 0 to 100 based on 18 equally weighted indicators. In addition, the survey collects supplementary information on independent fiscal institutions (see Box).

The legislature and supreme audit institution in Mali, together, provide weak oversight during the budget process, with a composite oversight score of 30 (out of 100). Taken individually, the extent of each institution's oversight is shown below:

Recommendations

When Mali's National Assembly was in session, it provided weak oversight during the planning stage of the budget cycle and weak oversight during the implementation stage. Following its dissolution in August 2020, it is urgent that the National Assembly be reinstated in order to restore the normal checks and balances of Mali's budget process. After its reinstatement, furthermore, the following actions should be prioritized to improve legislative oversight:

- The National Assembly should debate budget policy before the Executive's Budget Proposal is tabled and approve recommendations for the upcoming budget.

- The Executive's Budget Proposal should be submitted to legislators at least two months before the start of the budget year.
- Legislative committees should examine the Executive's Budget Proposal and publish reports with their analysis online.
- The National Assembly should approve the Executive's Budget Proposal before the start of the budget year.
- A legislative committee should examine in-year budget implementation and publish reports with their findings online.
- In practice, ensure the National Assembly is consulted before the executive shifts funds specified in the Enacted Budget between administrative units; spends any unanticipated revenue; or reduces spending due to revenue shortfalls during the budget year.
- A legislative committee should examine the Audit Report and publish a report with their findings online.

To strengthen independence and improve audit oversight by Mali's General Control of Public Services, the following actions are recommended:

- Ensure audit processes are reviewed by an independent agency.

The emerging practice of establishing independent fiscal institutions

Mali does not have an independent fiscal institution (IFI). IFIs are increasingly recognized as valuable independent and nonpartisan information providers to the Executive and/or Parliament during the budget process.

These indicators are not scored in the Open Budget Survey.*

Methodology

- Only documents published and events, activities, or developments that took place through 31 December 2020 were assessed in the OBS 2021.
- The survey is based on a questionnaire completed in each country by an independent budget expert:
Boubacar Bougoudogo
Groupe de recherche en économie appliqué et théorique (GREAT)
Rue 626, porte 1726 Kalabancoura – Extension Sud Bamako, Mali BP. E1255 bougoudogo@yahoo.fr; boubacar@greatmali.net
- To further strengthen the research, each country's draft questionnaire is also reviewed by an anonymous independent expert, and in Mali by a representative of the Ministry of Economy and Finance.
