O raziskavi

Government budget decisions – what taxes to levy, what services to provide, and how much debt to take on – have important consequences for all people in society. When governments provide information and meaningful channels for the public to engage in these decisions, we can better ensure public money is spent on public interests.

The Open Budget Survey (OBS) is the world's only independent, comparative and fact-based research instrument that uses internationally accepted criteria to assess public access to central government budget information; formal opportunities for the public to participate in the national budget process; and the role of budget oversight institutions, such as legislatures and national audit offices, in the budget process.

The survey helps local civil society assess and confer with their government on the reporting and use of public funds. This 8th edition of the OBS covers 120 countries.

Visit www.internationalbudget.org/open-budget-survey for more information, including the full OBS methodology, the 2021 Global and Regional Reports, findings for all surveyed countries, and the Data Explorer.

Slovenia's transparency score of 66 in the OBS 2021 is near its score in 2019.

Recommendations

Slovenia should prioritize the following actions to improve budget transparency:

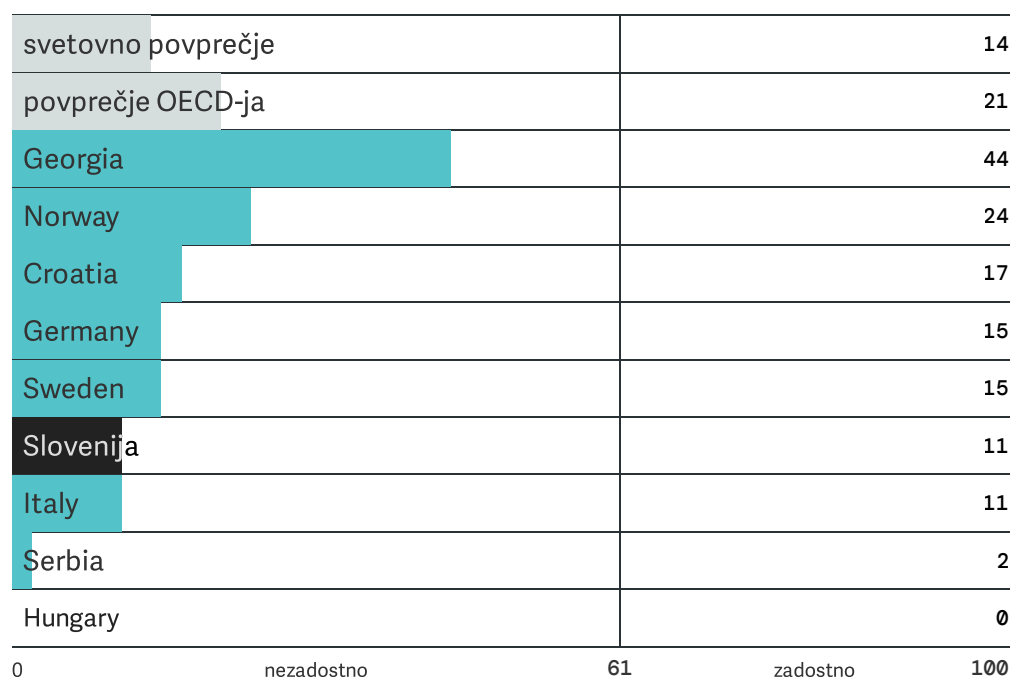

- Publish the Pre-Budget Statement online in a timely manner.
- Improve the comprehensiveness of the Citizens Budget by including information on macroeconomic forecast upon which the budget is based, as well as contact information for follow-up by citizens. We acknowledge that the latter is included on the landing page of one the websites the Citizens Budget provides the link for, but a direct reference on the leaflet itself would minimize clicks and searches.
- In addition, the process to draft the Citizens Budget could be made more inclusive and participatory by establishing accessible, citizens-friendly mechanisms to identify the public's requirements for budget information to be included in the Citizen's Budget

Public Participation

The OBS assesses the formal opportunities offered to the public for meaningful participation in the different stages of the budget process. It examines the practices of the central government's executive, the legislature, and the supreme audit institution (SAI) using 18 equally weighted indicators, aligned with the Global Initiative for Fiscal Transparency's Principles of Public Participation in Fiscal Policies, and scores each country on a scale from 0 to 100.

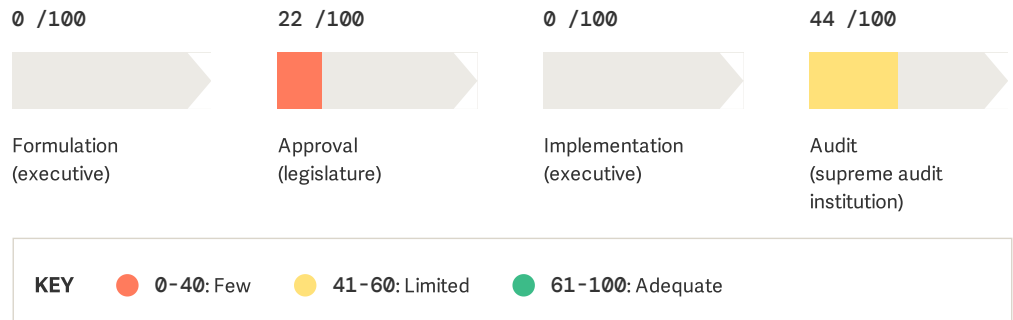

Slovenia has a public participation score of 11 (out of 100).

Extent of opportunities for public participation in the budget process

Recommendations

To further strengthen public participation in the budget process, Slovenia's Ministry of Finance should prioritize the following actions:

- Pilot mechanisms to engage the public during budget formulation and to monitor budget implementation.
- Actively engage with vulnerable and underrepresented communities, directly or through civil society organizations representing them.

Slovenia's Parliament has established public hearings related to the approval of the annual budget, but should also prioritize the following actions:

- Allow any member of the public or any civil society organization to testify during its hearings on the budget proposal prior to its approval.
- Allow members of the public or civil society organizations to testify during its hearings on the Audit Report.

Slovenia's Court of Audit has established mechanisms for the public to assist in developing its audit program. It should prioritize the following actions to improve public participation in the budget process:

- Establish formal mechanisms for the public and civil society to participate in the relevant audit investigations, contributing as witnesses and/or respondents.

Budget Oversight

The OBS examines the role that legislatures and supreme audit institutions (SAIs) play in the budget process and the extent to which they provide oversight; each country is scored on a scale from 0 to 100 based on 18 equally weighted indicators. In addition, the survey collects supplementary information on independent fiscal institutions (see Box).

The legislature and supreme audit institution in Slovenia, together, provide adequate oversight during the budget process, with a composite oversight score of 83 (out of 100). Taken individually, the extent of each institution's oversight is shown below:

Legislative oversight

Audit oversight

KEY ● 0-40: Few ● 41-60: Limited ● 61-100: Adequate

Recommendations

Slovenia's Parliament provides adequate oversight during the planning stage of the budget cycle and adequate oversight during the implementation stage. To further improve oversight, the following actions should be prioritized:

- The legislature should debate budget policy before the Executive's Budget Proposal is tabled and approve recommendations for the upcoming budget.

To strengthen independence and improve audit oversight by the Slovenia Court of Audit, the following actions are recommended:

- Ensure audit processes are reviewed by an independent agency.

The emerging practice of establishing independent fiscal institutions

Slovenia's independent fiscal institution (IFI) is the Slovenian Fiscal Council. Its independence is set in law, and it reports to the executive and the legislative. It publishes its own macroeconomic and fiscal forecasts, and its own cost estimates of some new policy proposals.

The indicators on IFIs are not scored in the Open Budget Survey.

Methodology

- Only documents published and events, activities, or developments that took place through 31 December 2020 were assessed in the OBS 2021.
- The survey is based on a questionnaire completed in each country by an independent budget expert:
Tilen Bozic
AT8 consulting

tilen@at8.si
- To further strengthen the research, each country's draft questionnaire is also reviewed by an anonymous independent expert, and in Slovenia by a representative of the Ministry of Finance.
