About the survey

Government budget decisions – what taxes to levy, what services to provide, and how much debt to take on – have important consequences for all people in society. When governments provide information and meaningful channels for the public to engage in these decisions, we can better ensure public money is spent on public interests.

The Open Budget Survey (OBS) is the world’s only independent, comparative and fact-based research instrument that uses internationally accepted criteria to assess public access to central government budget information; formal opportunities for the public to participate in the national budget process; and the role of budget oversight institutions, such as legislatures and national audit offices, in the budget process.

The survey helps local civil society assess and confer with their government on the reporting and use of public funds. This 9th edition of the OBS covers 125 countries.

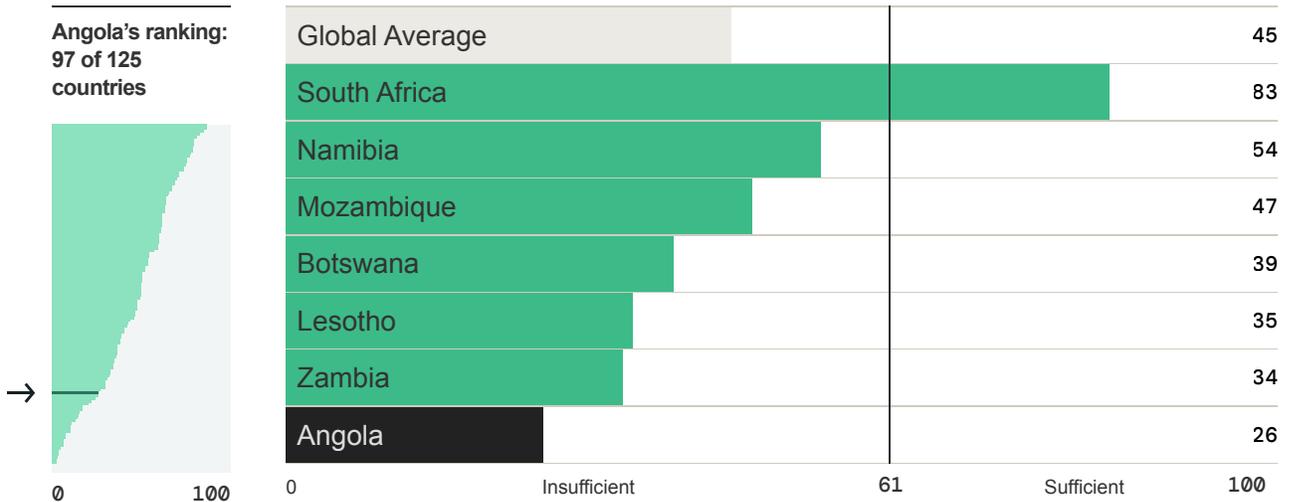

Visit www.internationalbudget.org/open-budget-survey for more information, including the full OBS methodology, the 2023 Global Report, findings for all surveyed countries, and the Data Explorer.

Transparency

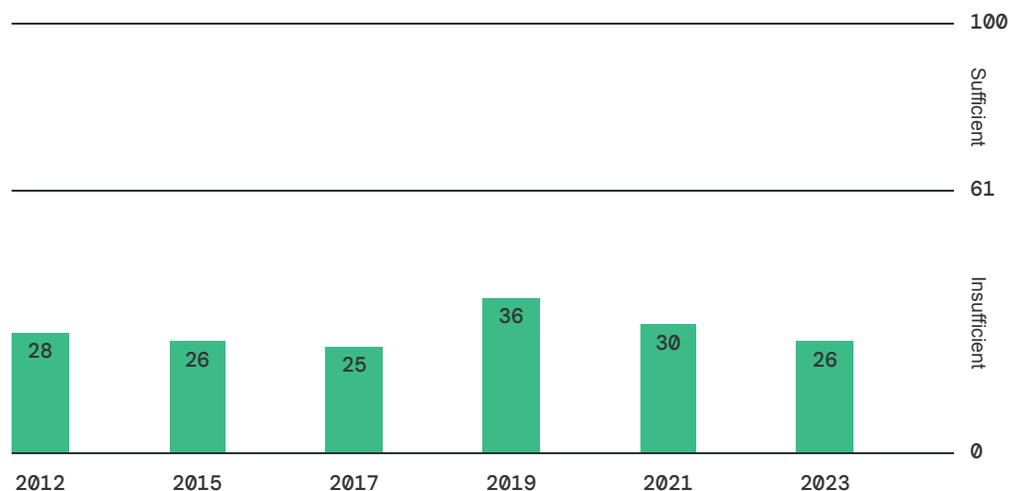

This part of the OBS measures public access to information on how the central government raises and spends public resources. It assesses the online availability, timeliness, and comprehensiveness of eight key budget documents using 109 equally weighted indicators and scores each country on a scale of 0 to 100. A transparency score of 61 or above indicates a country is likely publishing enough material to support informed public debate on the budget.

Angola has a transparency score of 26 (out of 100).

Year-End Report	Describes the situation of the government's accounts at the end of the fiscal year and, ideally, an evaluation of the progress made toward achieving the budget's policy goals.	2021	43
Audit Report	Issued by the supreme audit institution, this document examines the soundness and completeness of the government's year-end accounts.	2020	Internal Use

Angola's transparency score of 26 in the OBS 2023 is near its score in 2021.

What changed in OBS 2023?

Angola has decreased the availability of budget information by:

- Failing to publish the Citizens Budget online in a timely manner.

Recommendations

Angola should prioritize the following actions to improve budget transparency:

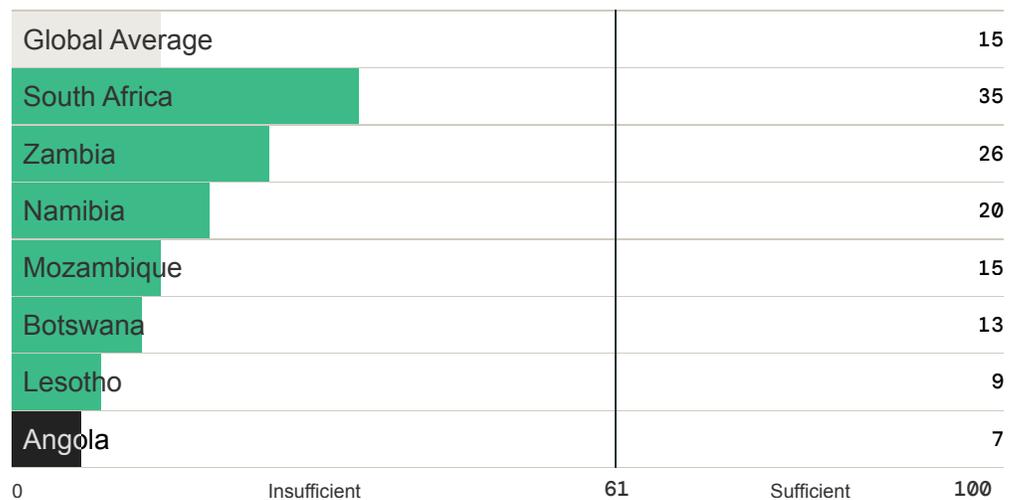

- Publish the Citizens Budget, In-Year Reports and Audit Report online in a timely manner.
- Produce and publish the Pre-Budget Statement and Mid-Year Review online in a timely manner.
- Improve the comprehensiveness of the Executive's Budget Proposal by including information on: expenditure and revenue estimates for a multi-year period and previous fiscal years; on the composition of total debt outstanding at the end of the budget year; and on new policy proposals, extra-budgetary funds, quasi-fiscal activities, contingent and future liabilities, tax expenditures, and non-financial data on inputs and results, among other financial, performance and policy information.
- Include in the Year-End Report comparisons between planned nonfinancial outcomes and actual outcomes and comparisons between the original macroeconomic forecast and actual outcomes.

Public Participation

The OBS assesses the formal opportunities offered to the public for meaningful participation in the different stages of the budget process. It examines the practices of the central government's executive, the legislature, and the supreme audit institution (SAI) using 18 equally weighted indicators, aligned with the Global Initiative for Fiscal Transparency's Principles of Public Participation in Fiscal Policies, and scores each country on a scale from 0 to 100.

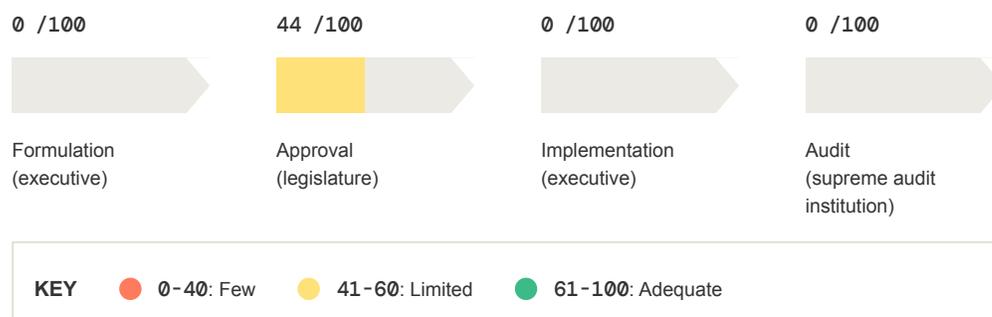

Angola has a public participation score of 7 (out of 100).

Extent of opportunities for public participation in the budget process

Recommendations

To further strengthen public participation in the budget process, Angola's Ministério das Finanças should prioritize the following actions:

- Similar to what is done by the Ministry of Territorial Administration with Participatory Budgeting at the municipal level, the Ministério das Finanças should implement mechanisms to involve the public and civil society organizations during budget formulation (at the national level).
- Pilot mechanisms to engage the public to monitor budget implementation.
- Actively engage with vulnerable and underrepresented communities, directly or through civil society organizations representing them.

Angola's Assembleia Nacional has established public hearings related to the approval of the annual budget, but should also prioritize the following actions:

- Allow any member of the public or any civil society organization to testify during its hearings on the budget proposal prior to its approval. Additionally, publish a report detailing the contributions received, including feedback on how participants' contributions were considered in the budget proposal.
- Allow members of the public or civil society organizations to testify during its hearings on the Audit Report.
- Pilot mechanisms to involve the public during the legislature monitoring of budget implementation.

Angola's Tribunal de Contas should prioritize the following actions to improve public participation in the budget process:

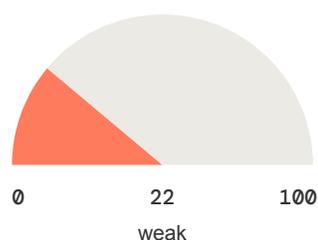

- Establish formal mechanisms for the public to assist in developing its audit program and to contribute to relevant audit investigations.

Budget Oversight

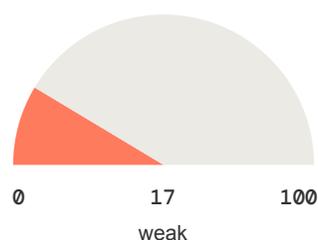

The OBS examines the role that legislatures and supreme audit institutions (SAIs) play in the budget process and the extent to which they provide oversight; each country is scored on a scale from 0 to 100 based on 18 equally weighted indicators. In addition, the survey collects supplementary information on independent fiscal institutions (see Box).

The legislature and supreme audit institution in Angola, together, provide weak oversight during the budget process, with a composite oversight score of 20 (out of 100). Taken individually, the extent of each institution's oversight is shown below:

KEY ● 0-40: Few ● 41-60: Limited ● 61-100: Adequate

Recommendations

Angola's Assembleia Nacional provides weak oversight during the planning stage of the budget cycle and no oversight during the implementation stage. To improve oversight, the following actions should be prioritized:

- The legislature should debate budget policy before the Executive's Budget Proposal is tabled and approve recommendations for the upcoming budget.
- The Executive's Budget Proposal should be submitted to legislators at least two months before the start of the budget year.
- Legislative committees should examine the Executive's Budget Proposal and publish reports with their analysis online.
- A legislative committee should examine in-year budget implementation and publish reports with their findings online.

- In practice, ensure the legislature is consulted before the executive shifts funds specified in the Enacted Budget between administrative units; spends any unanticipated revenue; or reduces spending due to revenue shortfalls during the budget year.
- A legislative committee should examine the Audit Report and publish a report with their findings online.

To strengthen independence and improve audit oversight by the Angola Tribunal de Contas, the following actions are recommended:

- Require legislative or judicial approval to appoint and remove the head of the supreme audit institution.
- Ensure the supreme audit institution has adequate funding to perform its duties, as determined by an independent body (e.g., the legislature or judiciary).
- Ensure audit processes are reviewed by an independent agency.

The emerging practice of establishing independent fiscal institutions

Angola does not have an independent fiscal institution (IFI). IFIs are increasingly recognized as valuable independent and nonpartisan information providers to the Executive and/or Parliament during the budget process.

These indicators are not scored in the Open Budget Survey.*

Methodology

- Only documents published and events, activities, or developments that took place through 31 December 2022 were assessed in the OBS 2023.
- The survey is based on a questionnaire completed in each country by an independent budget expert:
Sérgio Calundungo
Acção Angolana para o Desenvolvimento Rural e Ambiente
- To further strengthen the research, each country's draft questionnaire is also reviewed by an anonymous independent expert, and in Angola by a representative of the Ministério das Finanças.
