About the survey

Government budget decisions – what taxes to levy, what services to provide, and how much debt to take on – have important consequences for all people in society. When governments provide information and meaningful channels for the public to engage in these decisions, we can better ensure public money is spent on public interests.

The Open Budget Survey (OBS) is the world’s only independent, comparative and fact-based research instrument that uses internationally accepted criteria to assess public access to central government budget information; formal opportunities for the public to participate in the national budget process; and the role of budget oversight institutions, such as legislatures and national audit offices, in the budget process.

The survey helps local civil society assess and confer with their government on the reporting and use of public funds. This 9th edition of the OBS covers 125 countries.

Visit www.internationalbudget.org/open-budget-survey for more information, including the full OBS methodology, the 2023 Global Report, findings for all surveyed countries, and the Data Explorer.

Transparency

This part of the OBS measures public access to information on how the central government raises and spends public resources. It assesses the online availability, timeliness, and comprehensiveness of eight key budget documents using 109 equally weighted indicators and scores each country on a scale of 0 to 100. A transparency score of 61 or above indicates a country is likely publishing enough material to support informed public debate on the budget.

Bangladesh has a transparency score of 37 (out of 100).

Bangladesh's transparency score of 37 in the OBS 2023 is moderately higher than its score in 2021.

What changed in OBS 2023?

Bangladesh has increased the availability of budget information by:

- Increasing the information provided in the Executive's Budget Proposal by publishing the Medium Term Budgetary Frameworks (MTBF) on time.

Recommendations

Bangladesh should prioritize the following actions to improve budget transparency:

- Publish the Pre-Budget Statement, In-Year Reports, Year-End Report and Audit Report online in a timely manner. Prioritize the publication of a single, comprehensive Year-End Report, as information is currently incomplete and spread across multiple documents. This Year-End Report should be published within one year of the end of the reporting period.
- Produce and publish the Mid-Year Review online in a timely manner. For a half year quarterly report to qualify as Mid-Year Review, it should include macroeconomic and fiscal forecasts for the remainder of the year, as well as revised and updated estimates for revenues and expenditures.
- Improve the comprehensiveness of the Citizens Budget and Enacted Budget.
- Ensure consistent publication of the Executive's Budget Proposal (Medium Term Budgetary Frameworks) every year to avoid volatility.

Public Participation

The OBS assesses the formal opportunities offered to the public for meaningful participation in the different stages of the budget process. It examines the practices of the central government's executive, the legislature, and the supreme audit institution (SAI) using 18 equally weighted indicators, aligned with the Global Initiative for Fiscal Transparency's Principles of Public Participation in Fiscal Policies, and scores each country on a scale from 0 to 100.

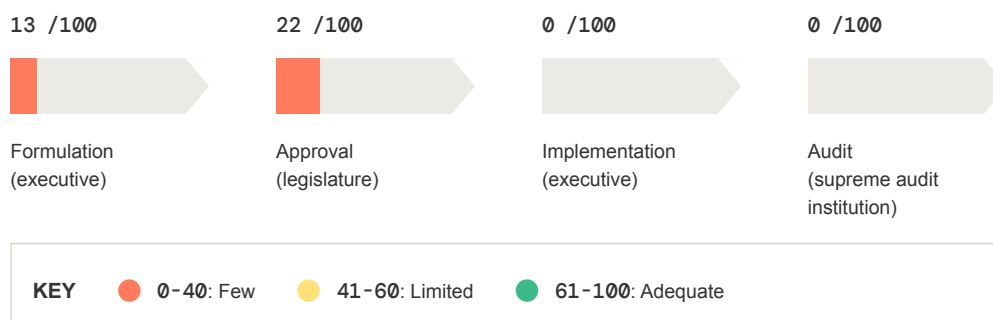

Bangladesh has a public participation score of 11 (out of 100).

Extent of opportunities for public participation in the budget process

Recommendations

Bangladesh's Ministry of Finance has established pre-budget deliberations during budget formulation but, to further strengthen public participation in the budget process, should also prioritize the following actions:

- Pilot mechanisms to monitor budget implementation.
- Expand mechanisms during budget formulation to engage any civil society organization or member of the public who wishes to participate.
- Actively engage with vulnerable and underrepresented communities, directly or through civil society organizations representing them.

Bangladesh's National Parliament (Jatiya Sangsad) has established public hearings related to the approval of the annual budget, but should also prioritize the following actions:

- Allow any member of the public or any civil society organization to testify during its hearings on the budget proposal prior to its approval.
- Allow members of the public or civil society organizations to testify during its hearings on the Audit Report.

Bangladesh's Office of the Comptroller and Auditor General should prioritize the following actions to improve public participation in the budget process:

- Establish formal mechanisms for the public to assist in developing its audit program and to contribute to relevant audit investigations.

Budget Oversight

The OBS examines the role that legislatures and supreme audit institutions (SAIs) play in the budget process and the extent to which they provide oversight; each country is scored on a scale from 0 to 100 based on 18 equally weighted indicators. In addition, the survey collects supplementary information on independent fiscal institutions (see Box).

The legislature and supreme audit institution in Bangladesh, together, provide weak oversight during the budget process, with a composite oversight score of 37 (out of 100). Taken individually, the extent of each institution's oversight is shown below:

KEY ● 0-40: Few ● 41-60: Limited ● 61-100: Adequate

Recommendations

Bangladesh's National Parliament (Jatiya Sangsad) provides limited oversight during the planning stage of the budget cycle and weak oversight during the implementation stage. To improve oversight, the following actions should be prioritized:

- The Executive's Budget Proposal should be submitted to legislators at least two months before the start of the budget year.
- Legislative committees should examine the Executive's Budget Proposal and publish reports with their analysis online.
- A legislative committee should examine in-year budget implementation and publish reports with their findings online.

- In practice, ensure the legislature is consulted before the executive shifts funds specified in the Enacted Budget between administrative units; spends any unanticipated revenue; or reduces spending due to revenue shortfalls during the budget year.
- A legislative committee should examine the Audit Report and publish a report with their findings online.

To strengthen independence and improve audit oversight by the Bangladesh Office of the Comptroller and Auditor General, the following actions are recommended:

- Require legislative or judicial approval to appoint the head of the supreme audit institution.
- Ensure audit processes are reviewed by an independent agency.

The emerging practice of establishing independent fiscal institutions

Bangladesh does not have an independent fiscal institution (IFI). IFIs are increasingly recognized as valuable independent and nonpartisan information providers to the Executive and/or Parliament during the budget process.

These indicators are not scored in the Open Budget Survey.*

Methodology

- Only documents published and events, activities, or developments that took place through 31 December 2022 were assessed in the OBS 2023.
- The survey is based on a questionnaire completed in each country by an independent budget expert:
Dr M Abu Eusuf Professor, Department of Development Studies and Director, Centre on Budget and Policy, University of Dhaka & Executive Director, Research and Policy Integration for Development (RAPID)

eusuf101@gmail.com

- To further strengthen the research, each country's draft questionnaire is also reviewed by an anonymous independent expert, and in Bangladesh by a representative of the Ministry of Finance.
