About the survey

Government budget decisions – what taxes to levy, what services to provide, and how much debt to take on – have important consequences for all people in society. When governments provide information and meaningful channels for the public to engage in these decisions, we can better ensure public money is spent on public interests.

The Open Budget Survey (OBS) is the world's only independent, comparative and fact-based research instrument that uses internationally accepted criteria to assess public access to central government budget information; formal opportunities for the public to participate in the national budget process; and the role of budget oversight institutions, such as legislatures and national audit offices, in the budget process.

The survey helps local civil society assess and confer with their government on the reporting and use of public funds. This 9th edition of the OBS covers 125 countries.

Visit www.internationalbudget.org/open-budget-survey for more information, including the full OBS methodology, the 2023 Global Report, findings for all surveyed countries, and the Data Explorer.

Transparency

This part of the OBS measures public access to information on how the central government raises and spends public resources. It assesses the online availability, timeliness, and comprehensiveness of eight key budget documents using 109 equally weighted indicators and scores each country on a scale of 0 to 100. A transparency score of 61 or above indicates a country is likely publishing enough material to support informed public debate on the budget.

Benin has a transparency score of 79 (out of 100).

What changed in OBS 2023?

Benin has increased the availability of budget information by:

- Publishing the Audit Report online.
- Increasing the information provided in the Executive's Budget Proposal.
- Increasing the information provided in the Mid-Year Review.

However, Benin has decreased the availability of budget information by:

Recommendations

Benin should prioritize the following actions to improve budget transparency:

- Improve the comprehensiveness of the Audit Report by including audits of extra-budgetary funds falling within the mandate of the Accounts Court as well as an executive summary.

Public Participation

The OBS assesses the formal opportunities offered to the public for meaningful participation in the different stages of the budget process. It examines the practices of the central government’s executive, the legislature, and the supreme audit institution (SAI) using 18 equally weighted indicators, aligned with the Global Initiative for Fiscal Transparency’s Principles of Public Participation in Fiscal Policies, and scores each country on a scale from 0 to 100.

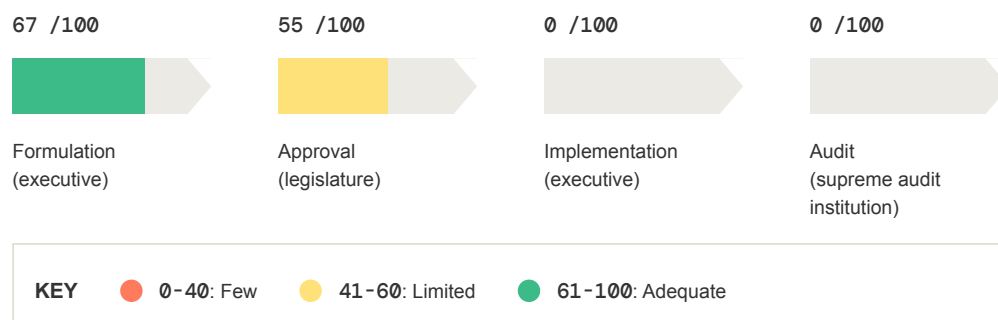

Benin has a public participation score of 31 (out of 100).

Extent of opportunities for public participation in the budget process

Recommendations

Benin's Ministry of Economy and Finance has established pre-budget deliberations during budget formulation but, to further strengthen public participation in the budget process, should also prioritize the following actions:

- Pilot mechanisms to monitor budget implementation during the course of the fiscal year.
- Expand mechanisms during budget formulation to engage any civil society organization or member of the public who wishes to participate.
- Actively engage with vulnerable and underrepresented communities, directly or through civil society organizations representing them.

Benin's National Assembly has established public hearings related to the approval of the annual budget, but should also prioritize the following actions:

- Allow any member of the public or any civil society organization to testify during its hearings on the budget proposal prior to its approval.
- Allow members of the public or civil society organizations to testify during its hearings on the Audit Report.

Benin's Accounts Court should prioritize the following actions to improve public participation in the budget process:

- Establish formal mechanisms for the public to assist in developing its audit program and to contribute to relevant audit investigations.

Budget Oversight

The OBS examines the role that legislatures and supreme audit institutions (SAIs) play in the budget process and the extent to which they provide oversight; each country is scored on a scale from 0 to 100 based on 18 equally weighted indicators. In addition, the survey collects supplementary information on independent fiscal institutions (see Box).

The legislature and supreme audit institution in Benin, together, provide adequate oversight during the budget process, with a composite oversight score of 61 (out of 100). Taken individually, the extent of each institution's oversight is shown below:

Audit oversight

KEY ● 0-40: Few ● 41-60: Limited ● 61-100: Adequate

Recommendations

Benin's National Assembly provides adequate oversight during the planning stage of the budget cycle and adequate oversight during the implementation stage. To further improve oversight, the following actions should be prioritized:

- Legislative committees should examine the Executive's Budget Proposal and publish reports with their analysis online.
- In practice, ensure the legislature is consulted before the executive shifts funds specified in the Enacted Budget between administrative units during the budget year.
- A legislative committee should examine the Audit Report and publish a report with their findings online.

To strengthen independence and improve audit oversight by Benin's Accounts Court, the following actions are recommended:

- To facilitate the work of the Accounts Court, the sectoral ministries must produce and transmit on the correct date (June 30 at the latest), the Annual Performance Reports (RAP) and all other documents which should enable the Court of Auditors to carry out its mission as general controller of public expenditure.
- The Accounts Court should publish its 2022 and 2023 Annual Reports on its website.

By publishing its acts and decisions, the Court informs the public on the governance and management of public funds in accordance with the Code of Transparency in the Management of Public Finances.

- Ensure audit processes are reviewed by an independent agency.
- Provide gateways for interaction with civil society organizations in its communication strategy.

The emerging practice of establishing independent fiscal institutions

Benin does not have an independent fiscal institution (IFI). IFIs are increasingly recognized as valuable independent and nonpartisan information providers to the Executive and/or Parliament during the budget process.

These indicators are not scored in the Open Budget Survey.*

Methodology

- Only documents published and events, activities, or developments that took place through 31 December 2022 were assessed in the OBS 2023.
- The survey is based on a questionnaire completed in each country by an independent budget expert:
Jean-Pierre Dégué
Social Watch Benin
03 BP 2065 Cotonou, Benin
jpdegue@socialwatch.bj; contact@socialwatch.bj
- To further strengthen the research, each country's draft questionnaire is also reviewed by an anonymous independent expert, and in Benin by a representative of the Ministry of Economy and Finance.
