About the survey

Government budget decisions – what taxes to levy, what services to provide, and how much debt to take on – have important consequences for all people in society. When governments provide information and meaningful channels for the public to engage in these decisions, we can better ensure public money is spent on public interests.

The Open Budget Survey (OBS) is the world’s only independent, comparative and fact-based research instrument that uses internationally accepted criteria to assess public access to central government budget information; formal opportunities for the public to participate in the national budget process; and the role of budget oversight institutions, such as legislatures and national audit offices, in the budget process.

The survey helps local civil society assess and confer with their government on the reporting and use of public funds. This 9th edition of the OBS covers 125 countries.

Visit www.internationalbudget.org/open-budget-survey for more information, including the full OBS methodology, the 2023 Global Report, findings for all surveyed countries, and the Data Explorer.

Transparency

This part of the OBS measures public access to information on how the central government raises and spends public resources. It assesses the online availability, timeliness, and comprehensiveness of eight key budget documents using 109 equally weighted indicators and scores each country on a scale of 0 to 100. A transparency score of 61 or above indicates a country is likely publishing enough material to support informed public debate on the budget.

Burkina Faso has a transparency score of 30 (out of 100).

What changed in OBS 2023?

Burkina Faso has increased the availability of budget information by:

- Publishing the Mid-Year Review online.

However, Burkina Faso has decreased the availability of budget information by:

Recommendations

Burkina Faso should prioritize the following actions to improve budget transparency:

- Publish the Year-End Report online in a timely manner.
- Produce and publish the Audit Report online in a timely manner.
- Include in the Executive's Budget Proposal data on debt, data on the financial position of the government and data on the macroeconomic forecast.
- Improve the comprehensiveness of the In-Year Reports by including information related to the composition of total actual debt outstanding. The comprehensiveness of the Mid-Year Review should also be improved by providing updated total-year expenditure estimates by administrative, economic, and functional classifications as well as by individual program, and by providing updated total-year revenue estimates by category as well as by individual source.
- Efforts should be made to ensure that the website of the Direction Générale du Budget (<https://www.dgb.gov.bf/>) does not experience extended service outages, which can prevent the public from accessing needed information at key stages of the budget cycle.

Public Participation

The OBS assesses the formal opportunities offered to the public for meaningful participation in the different stages of the budget process. It examines the practices of the central government’s executive, the legislature, and the supreme audit institution (SAI) using 18 equally weighted indicators, aligned with the Global Initiative for Fiscal Transparency’s Principles of Public Participation in Fiscal Policies , and scores each country on a scale from 0 to 100.

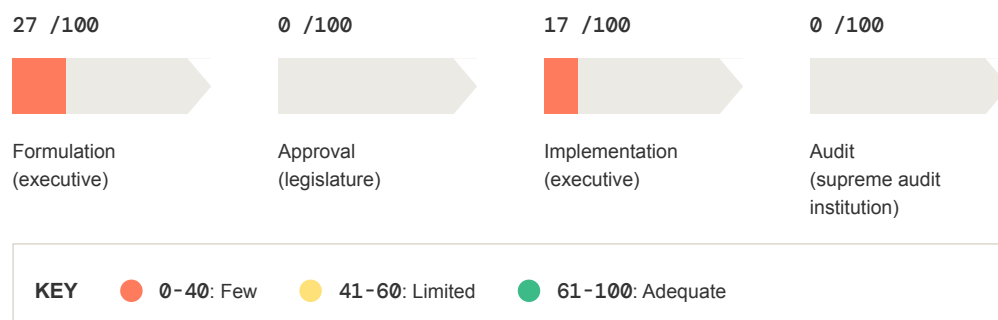

Burkina Faso has a public participation score of 11 (out of 100).

Extent of opportunities for public participation in the budget process

Recommendations

Burkina Faso's Ministry of Economy, Finance and Development has established pre-budget submissions during budget formulation and public consultations during budget implementation but, to further strengthen public participation in the budget process, should also prioritize the following actions:

- Expand mechanisms during budget formulation and implementation to engage any civil society organization or member of the public who wishes to participate.
- Actively engage with vulnerable and underrepresented communities, directly or through civil society organizations representing them.

Burkina Faso's Transitional Legislative Assembly should prioritize the following actions:

- Allow members of the public or civil society organizations to testify during its hearings on the budget proposal prior to its approval.
- Allow members of the public or civil society organizations to testify during its hearings on the Audit Report.

Burkina Faso's Court of Audit should prioritize the following actions to improve public participation in the budget process:

- Establish formal mechanisms for the public to assist in developing its audit program and to contribute to relevant audit investigations.

Budget Oversight

The OBS examines the role that legislatures and supreme audit institutions (SAIs) play in the budget process and the extent to which they provide oversight; each country is scored on a scale from 0 to 100 based on 18 equally weighted indicators. In addition, the survey collects supplementary information on independent fiscal institutions (see Box).

The legislature and supreme audit institution in Burkina Faso, together, provide weak oversight during the budget process, with a composite oversight score of 39 (out of 100). Taken individually, the extent of each institution's oversight is shown below:

Recommendations

Burkina Faso's Transitional Legislative Assembly provides limited oversight during the planning stage of the budget cycle and weak oversight during the implementation stage. To improve oversight, the following actions should be prioritized:

- The Executive's Budget Proposal should be submitted to legislators at least two months before the start of the budget year.
- Legislative committees should examine the Executive's Budget Proposal and publish reports with their analysis online.
- A legislative committee should examine in-year budget implementation and publish reports with their findings online.

- In practice, ensure the legislature is consulted before the executive shifts funds specified in the Enacted Budget between administrative units; spends any unanticipated revenue; or reduces spending due to revenue shortfalls during the budget year.
- A legislative committee should examine the Audit Report and publish a report with their findings online.

To strengthen independence and improve audit oversight by the Burkina Faso Court of Audit, the following actions are recommended:

- Grant the Court of Audit full powers to undertake audits as it sees fit.
- Ensure the Court has adequate funding to perform its duties, as determined by an independent body (e.g., the legislature or judiciary).
- Ensure audit processes are reviewed by an independent agency.

The emerging practice of establishing independent fiscal institutions

Burkina Faso does not have an independent fiscal institution (IFI). IFIs are increasingly recognized as valuable independent and nonpartisan information providers to the Executive and/or Parliament during the budget process.

These indicators are not scored in the Open Budget Survey.*

Methodology

- Only documents published and events, activities, or developments that took place through 31 December 2022 were assessed in the OBS 2023.
- The survey is based on a questionnaire completed in each country by an independent budget expert:
Agnès Kabore; Simon Pierre Douamba
Centre pour la Gouvernance Démocratique
Ouaga 2000 Rue Charles Billa Kabore
cgdbf@hotmail.com
- To further strengthen the research, each country's draft questionnaire is also reviewed by an anonymous independent expert, and in Burkina Faso by representatives of the Ministry of Economy, Finance and Development and Court of Audit (for a subset of questions).
