About the survey

Government budget decisions – what taxes to levy, what services to provide, and how much debt to take on – have important consequences for all people in society. When governments provide information and meaningful channels for the public to engage in these decisions, we can better ensure public money is spent on public interests.

The Open Budget Survey (OBS) is the world’s only independent, comparative and fact-based research instrument that uses internationally accepted criteria to assess public access to central government budget information; formal opportunities for the public to participate in the national budget process; and the role of budget oversight institutions, such as legislatures and national audit offices, in the budget process.

The survey helps local civil society assess and confer with their government on the reporting and use of public funds. This 9th edition of the OBS covers 125 countries.

Visit www.internationalbudget.org/open-budget-survey for more information, including the full OBS methodology, the 2023 Global Report, findings for all surveyed countries, and the Data Explorer.

Transparency

This part of the OBS measures public access to information on how the central government raises and spends public resources. It assesses the online availability, timeliness, and comprehensiveness of eight key budget documents using 109 equally weighted indicators and scores each country on a scale of 0 to 100. A transparency score of 61 or above indicates a country is likely publishing enough material to support informed public debate on the budget.

Colombia has a transparency score of 50 (out of 100).

Colombia's transparency score of 50 in the OBS 2023 is largely the same as its score in 2021.

Recommendations

Colombia should prioritize the following actions to improve budget transparency:

- Produce and publish the Mid-Year Review online in a timely manner.
- Improve the comprehensiveness of the Executive's Budget Proposal by including data on debt, as well as the financial position of the government, for example by including information on tax expenditures, quasi-fiscal activities, and financial and nonfinancial assets.
- Include in the Year-End Report comparisons between borrowing estimates and actual outcomes, comparisons between planned nonfinancial outcomes and actual outcomes and comparisons between the original macroeconomic forecast and actual outcomes.
- Improve the comprehensiveness of the In-Year Reports by including actual expenditures for all individual programs, actual revenue by category, and individual sources, and data on the composition of the total actual debt outstanding.
- The Ministerio de Hacienda y Crédito Público should publish information about existing extrabudgetary funds, along with their relevant data, within the documents published during the budgetary process.
- Expand on the participatory nature of the Citizens Budget (CB), for example by identifying the public's requirements for budget information prior to the release of the document; publicizing the CB via additional methods of dissemination (e.g., social media, TV, and radio programs); and by publishing simplified budget documents, such as citizen's versions of documents covering the approval, execution, and audit phases of the budget cycle on a timely manner.

Public Participation

The OBS assesses the formal opportunities offered to the public for meaningful participation in the different stages of the budget process. It examines the practices of the central government's executive, the legislature, and the supreme audit institution (SAI) using 18 equally weighted indicators, aligned with the Global Initiative for Fiscal Transparency's Principles of Public Participation in Fiscal Policies , and scores each country on a scale from 0 to 100.

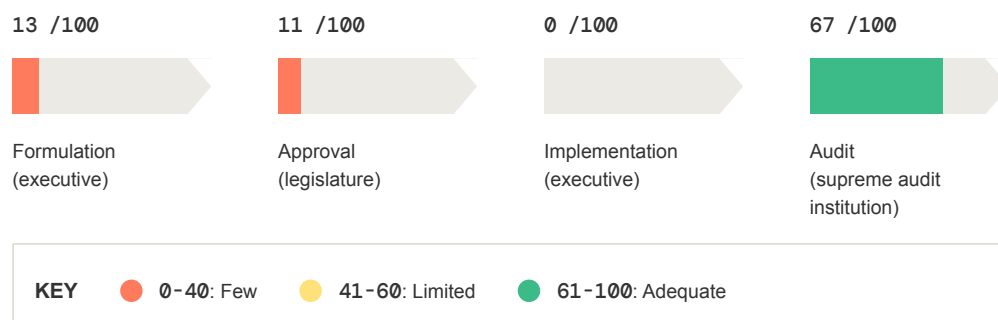

Colombia has a public participation score of 20 (out of 100).

Extent of opportunities for public participation in the budget process

Recommendations

Colombia's Ministerio de Hacienda y Crédito Público has established public consultations during budget formulation but, to further strengthen public participation in the budget process, should also prioritize the following actions:

- Pilot mechanisms to monitor budget implementation.
- Expand mechanisms during budget formulation to engage any civil society organization or member of the public who wishes to participate.
- Actively engage with vulnerable and underrepresented communities, directly or through civil society organizations representing them.

Colombia's Congreso de la República has established public hearings related to the approval of the annual budget, but should also prioritize the following actions:

- Allow any member of the public or any civil society organization to testify during its hearings on the budget proposal prior to its approval.
- Allow members of the public or civil society organizations to testify during its hearings on the Audit Report.

Budget Oversight

The OBS examines the role that legislatures and supreme audit institutions (SAIs) play in the budget process and the extent to which they provide oversight; each country is scored on a scale from 0 to 100 based on 18 equally weighted indicators. In addition, the survey collects supplementary information on independent fiscal institutions (see Box).

The legislature and supreme audit institution in Colombia, together, provide adequate oversight during the budget process, with a composite oversight score of 70 (out of 100). Taken individually, the extent of each institution's oversight is shown below:

Legislative oversight

Audit oversight

KEY ● 0-40: Few ● 41-60: Limited ● 61-100: Adequate

Recommendations

Colombia's Congreso de la República provides adequate oversight during the planning stage of the budget cycle and limited oversight during the implementation stage. To further improve oversight, the following actions should be prioritized:

- The legislature should debate budget policy before the Executive's Budget Proposal is tabled and approve recommendations for the upcoming budget.
- A legislative committee should examine in-year budget implementation and publish reports with their findings online.
- In practice, ensure the legislature is consulted before the executive reduces spending due to revenue shortfalls.

- A legislative committee should examine the Audit Report and publish a report with their findings online.

The emerging practice of establishing independent fiscal institutions

Colombia's independent fiscal institution (IFI) is the Comité Autónomo para la Regla Fiscal. Its independence is set in law, and it reports to the executive. It publishes an assessment of the official macroeconomic and fiscal forecasts produced by the executive.

The indicators on IFIs are not scored in the Open Budget Survey.

Methodology

- Only documents published and events, activities, or developments that took place through 31 December 2022 were assessed in the OBS 2023.
- The survey is based on a questionnaire completed in each country by an independent budget expert:
Mario Martínez
Fundación Foro Nacional por Colombia - Capítulo Región Central / National Forum for Colombia: Central Region Chapter
Address Cra 13 No. 35-43 Office 1101 , Phone: 5714108129 Bogotá, Colombia

- To further strengthen the research, each country's draft questionnaire is also reviewed by an anonymous independent expert, and in Colombia by a representative of the Ministerio de Hacienda y Crédito Público.
