About the survey

Government budget decisions – what taxes to levy, what services to provide, and how much debt to take on – have important consequences for all people in society. When governments provide information and meaningful channels for the public to engage in these decisions, we can better ensure public money is spent on public interests.

The Open Budget Survey (OBS) is the world's only independent, comparative and fact-based research instrument that uses internationally accepted criteria to assess public access to central government budget information; formal opportunities for the public to participate in the national budget process; and the role of budget oversight institutions, such as legislatures and national audit offices, in the budget process.

The survey helps local civil society assess and confer with their government on the reporting and use of public funds. This 9th edition of the OBS covers 125 countries.

Visit www.internationalbudget.org/open-budget-survey for more information, including the full OBS methodology, the 2023 Global Report, findings for all surveyed countries, and the Data Explorer.

Transparency

This part of the OBS measures public access to information on how the central government raises and spends public resources. It assesses the online availability, timeliness, and comprehensiveness of eight key budget documents using 109 equally weighted indicators and scores each country on a scale of 0 to 100. A transparency score of 61 or above indicates a country is likely publishing enough material to support informed public debate on the budget.

Honduras has a transparency score of 65 (out of 100).

Honduras's transparency score of 65 in the OBS 2023 is near its score in 2021.

What changed in OBS 2023?

Honduras has increased the availability of budget information by:

KEY

61-100 / 100

41-60 / 100

1-40 / 100

• Publishing the Mid-Year Review online.

However, Honduras has decreased the availability of budget information by:

• Reducing the information provided in the Pre-Budget Statement.

Recommendations

Honduras should prioritize the following actions to improve budget transparency:

- Improve the comprehensiveness of the Pre-Budget Statement.
- Expand on the participatory nature of the Citizens Budget (CB), for example by identifying the public's requirements for budget information prior to the release of the document; adding contact information for follow-up by citizens; publicizing the CB via additional methods of dissemination (e.g., social media, TV, and radio programs); and by publishing simplified budget documents, such as citizen's versions of documents covering the execution phase of the budget cycle.
- Continue to improve the comprehensiveness of the Executive's Budget Proposal. This could be achieved by including more data on debt, showing how new policy proposals affect expenditure and revenues, and providing information on quasi-fiscal activities and non-financial assets.

Public Participation

The OBS assesses the formal opportunities offered to the public for meaningful participation in the different stages of the budget process. It examines the practices of the central government's executive, the legislature, and the supreme audit institution (SAI) using 18 equally weighted indicators, aligned with the Global Initiative for Fiscal Transparency's Principles of Public Participation in Fiscal Policies , and scores each country on a scale from 0 to 100.

Honduras has a public participation score of 13 (out of 100).

Extent of opportunities for public participation in the budget process

Recommendations

To further strengthen public participation in the budget process, Honduras's Secretaría de Finanzas should prioritize the following actions:

- Pilot mechanisms to engage the public during budget formulation and to monitor budget implementation.
- Actively engage with vulnerable and underrepresented communities, directly or through civil society organizations representing them.

Honduras's Congreso Nacional has established public hearings related to the approval of the annual budget, but should also prioritize the following actions:

- Allow any member of the public or any civil society organization to testify during its hearings on the budget proposal prior to its approval.
- Allow members of the public or civil society organizations to testify during its hearings on the Audit Report.

Honduras's Tribunal Superior de Cuentas has established mechanisms for the public to assist in developing its audit program. It should prioritize the following actions to improve public participation in the budget process:

• Establish formal mechanisms for the public to contribute to relevant audit investigations.

Budget Oversight

The OBS examines the role that legislatures and supreme audit institutions (SAIs) play in the budget process and the extent to which they provide oversight; each country is scored on a scale from 0 to 100 based on 18 equally weighted indicators. In addition, the survey collects supplementary information on independent fiscal institutions (see Box).

The legislature and supreme audit institution in Honduras, together, provide limited oversight during the budget process, with a composite oversight score of 50 (out of 100). Taken individually, the extent of each institution's oversight is shown below:

Recommendations

Honduras's Congreso Nacional provides limited oversight during the planning stage of the budget cycle and weak oversight during the implementation stage. To improve oversight, the following actions should be prioritized:

- The legislature should debate budget policy before the Executive's Budget Proposal is tabled and approve recommendations for the upcoming budget.
- Legislative committees should examine the Executive's Budget Proposal and publish reports with their analysis online.
- A legislative committee should examine in-year budget implementation and publish reports with their findings online.

- In practice, ensure the legislature is consulted before the executive shifts funds specified in the Enacted Budget between administrative units; spends any unanticipated revenue; or reduces spending due to revenue shortfalls during the budget year.
- A legislative committee should examine the Audit Report and publish a report with their findings online.

To strengthen independence and improve audit oversight by the Honduras Tribunal Superior de Cuentas, the following actions are recommended:

• Ensure audit processes are reviewed by an independent agency.

The emerging practice of establishing independent fiscal institutions

Honduras does not have an independent fiscal institution (IFI). IFIs are increasingly recognized as valuable independent and nonpartisan information providers to the Executive and/or Parliament during the budget process.

*These indicators are *not* scored in the Open Budget Survey.

Methodology

- Only documents published and events, activities, or developments that took place through 31 December 2022 were assessed in the OBS 2023.
- The survey is based on a questionnaire completed in each country by an independent budget expert: Jorge Henríquez, Alejandra Salgado
  Foro Social de Deuda Externa y Desarrollo de Honduras (FOSDEH)
  Colonia Alameda Ave Tiburcio Carias Andino casa 1011 Tegucigalpa, M.D.C.
  Honduras Centro América
  jorgelhenriquez@fosdeh.net
- To further strengthen the research, each country's draft questionnaire is also reviewed by an anonymous independent expert, and in Honduras by a representative of the Secretaría de Finanzas.
