About the survey

Government budget decisions – what taxes to levy, what services to provide, and how much debt to take on – have important consequences for all people in society. When governments provide information and meaningful channels for the public to engage in these decisions, we can better ensure public money is spent on public interests.

The Open Budget Survey (OBS) is the world’s only independent, comparative and fact-based research instrument that uses internationally accepted criteria to assess public access to central government budget information; formal opportunities for the public to participate in the national budget process; and the role of budget oversight institutions, such as legislatures and national audit offices, in the budget process.

The survey helps local civil society assess and confer with their government on the reporting and use of public funds. This 9th edition of the OBS covers 125 countries.

Visit www.internationalbudget.org/open-budget-survey for more information, including the full OBS methodology, the 2023 Global Report, findings for all surveyed countries, and the Data Explorer.

What changed in OBS 2023?

Saudi Arabia has increased the availability of budget information by:

- Increasing the information provided in the Mid-Year Review.

Recommendations

Saudi Arabia should prioritize the following actions to improve budget transparency:

- Publish the Audit Report online in a timely manner.
- Submit the Executive's Budget Proposal to the Shura Council and publish the Executive's Budget Proposal online in a timely manner.
- Include in the Year-End Report comparisons between borrowing estimates and actual outcomes and comparisons between planned nonfinancial outcomes and actual outcomes.
- Improve the comprehensiveness of the Year-End Report.

Extent of opportunities for public participation in the budget process

Recommendations

To further strengthen public participation in the budget process, Saudi Arabia's Ministry of Finance should prioritize the following actions:

- Pilot mechanisms to engage the public during budget formulation and to monitor budget implementation.
- Actively engage with vulnerable and underrepresented communities, directly or through civil society organizations representing them.

Saudi Arabia's Shura Council should prioritize the following actions:

- Introduce the budget proposal to the Shura Council and allow members of the public or civil society organizations to testify during its hearings on the budget proposal prior to its approval, as well as during other hearings in the Shura Council after the budget proposal is finalized.
- Allow members of the public or civil society organizations to testify during its hearings on the Audit Report.

Saudi Arabia's General Auditing Bureau (GAB) should prioritize the following actions to improve public participation in the budget process:

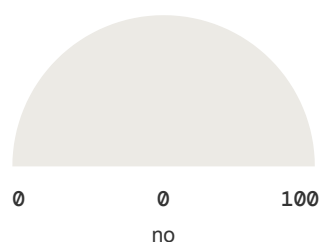

- Establish formal mechanisms for the public to assist in developing its audit program and to contribute to relevant audit investigations.

Budget Oversight

The OBS examines the role that legislatures and supreme audit institutions (SAIs) play in the budget process and the extent to which they provide oversight; each country is scored on a scale from 0 to 100 based on 18 equally weighted indicators. In addition, the survey collects supplementary information on independent fiscal institutions (see Box).

The legislature and supreme audit institution in Saudi Arabia, together, provide weak oversight during the budget process, with a composite oversight score of 11 (out of 100). Taken individually, the extent of each institution's oversight is shown below:

Recommendations

Saudi Arabia's Shura Council provides no oversight during the planning stage of the budget cycle and no oversight during the implementation stage. To improve oversight, the following actions should be prioritized:

- The Executive's Budget Proposal should be submitted to legislators at least two months before the start of the budget year.
- Legislative committees should receive a version of the Executive's Budget Proposal and review it, with the goal of publishing reports with their analysis online.
- The legislature should approve the Executive's Budget Proposal before the start of the budget year.

- A legislative committee should examine in-year budget implementation and publish reports with their findings online.
- A legislative committee should examine the Audit Report and publish a report with their findings online.

To strengthen independence and improve audit oversight by the Saudi Arabia General Auditing Bureau (GAB), the following actions are recommended:

- Require legislative or judicial approval to appoint and remove the head of the supreme audit institution.
- Ensure audit processes are reviewed by an independent agency.

The emerging practice of establishing independent fiscal institutions

Saudi Arabia does not have an independent fiscal institution (IFI). IFIs are increasingly recognized as valuable independent and nonpartisan information providers to the Executive and/or Parliament during the budget process.

These indicators are not scored in the Open Budget Survey.*

Methodology

- Only documents published and events, activities, or developments that took place through 31 December 2022 were assessed in the OBS 2023.
- The survey is based on a questionnaire completed in each country by an independent budget expert:

For inquiries please contact the International Budget Partnership

info@internationalbudget.org

- To further strengthen the research, each country's draft questionnaire is also reviewed by an anonymous independent expert, and in Saudi Arabia by a representative of the Ministry of Finance.
