About the survey

Government budget decisions – what taxes to levy, what services to provide, and how much debt to take on – have important consequences for all people in society. When governments provide information and meaningful channels for the public to engage in these decisions, we can better ensure public money is spent on public interests.

The Open Budget Survey (OBS) is the world’s only independent, comparative and fact-based research instrument that uses internationally accepted criteria to assess public access to central government budget information; formal opportunities for the public to participate in the national budget process; and the role of budget oversight institutions, such as legislatures and national audit offices, in the budget process.

The survey helps local civil society assess and confer with their government on the reporting and use of public funds. This 9th edition of the OBS covers 125 countries.

Visit www.internationalbudget.org/open-budget-survey for more information, including the full OBS methodology, the 2023 Global Report, findings for all surveyed countries, and the Data Explorer.

Uganda's transparency score of 59 in the OBS 2023 is near its score in 2021.

What changed in OBS 2023?

Uganda has increased the availability of budget information by:

- Publishing the Enacted Budget online in a timely manner.

However, Uganda has decreased the availability of budget information by:

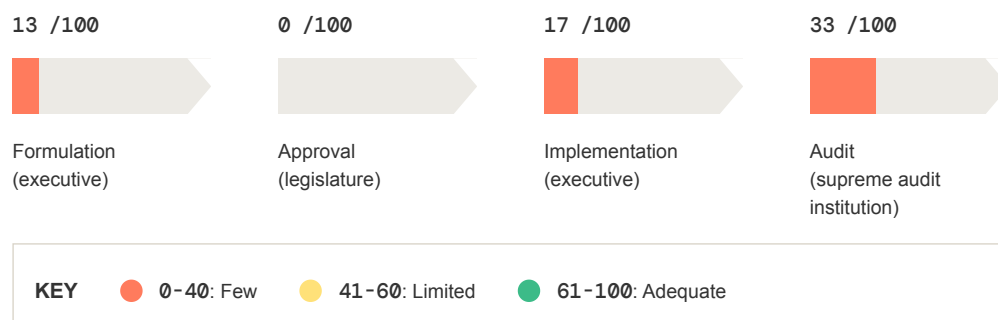

- Failing to publish the Citizens Budget online in a timely manner.

Recommendations

Uganda should prioritize the following actions to improve budget transparency:

- Publish the Citizens Budget online in a timely manner. The Citizens Budget should be published online in the same timeframe as the document it simplifies.
- Include in the Executive's Budget Proposal data on the financial position of the government and data on the macroeconomic forecast. This includes publishing information on financial and nonfinancial assets held by the government, estimates of expenditure arrears, and information on contingent and future liabilities. Furthermore, the Executive's Budget Proposal should include information that shows how all new policy proposals affect expenditures and revenues and how the proposed budget links to the government's policy goals for the budget year and subsequent ones.
- Include in the Year-End Report comparisons between borrowing estimates and actual outcomes and comparisons between the original macroeconomic forecast and actual outcomes.
- Improve the comprehensiveness of the Audit Report and Mid-Year Review.

Extent of opportunities for public participation in the budget process

Recommendations

Uganda's Ministry of Finance, Planning and Economic Development has established pre-budget deliberations during budget formulation and e-consultations during budget implementation but, to further strengthen public participation in the budget process, should also prioritize the following actions:

- Expand mechanisms during budget formulation and implementation to engage any civil society organization or member of the public who wishes to participate.
- Actively engage with vulnerable and underrepresented communities, directly or through civil society organizations representing them.

Uganda's Parliament should prioritize the following actions:

- Allow members of the public or civil society organizations to testify during its hearings on the budget proposal prior to its approval.
- Allow members of the public or civil society organizations to testify during its hearings on the Audit Report.

Uganda's Office of the Auditor General has established mechanisms for the public to assist in developing its audit program. It should prioritize the following actions to improve public participation in the budget process:

- Establish formal mechanisms for the public to contribute to relevant audit investigations.

Budget Oversight

The OBS examines the role that legislatures and supreme audit institutions (SAIs) play in the budget process and the extent to which they provide oversight; each country is scored on a scale from 0 to 100 based on 18 equally weighted indicators. In addition, the survey collects supplementary information on independent fiscal institutions (see Box).

The legislature and supreme audit institution in Uganda, together, provide adequate oversight during the budget process, with a composite oversight score of 67 (out of 100). Taken individually, the extent of each institution's oversight is shown below:

Legislative oversight

Audit oversight

KEY ● 0-40: Few ● 41-60: Limited ● 61-100: Adequate

Recommendations

Uganda's Parliament provides adequate oversight during the planning stage of the budget cycle and weak oversight during the implementation stage. To further improve oversight, the following actions should be prioritized:

- A legislative committee should examine in-year budget implementation and publish reports with their findings online.
- In practice, ensure the legislature is consulted before the executive shifts funds specified in the Enacted Budget between administrative units; spends any unanticipated revenue; or reduces spending due to revenue shortfalls during the budget year.
- A legislative committee should examine the Audit Report and publish a report with their findings online.

To strengthen independence and improve audit oversight by the Uganda Office of the Auditor General, the following actions are recommended:

- Ensure the supreme audit institution has adequate funding to perform its duties, as determined by an independent body (e.g., the legislature or judiciary).
- Ensure audit processes are reviewed by an independent agency.

The emerging practice of establishing independent fiscal institutions

Uganda's independent fiscal institution (IFI) is the Parliamentary Budget Office. Its independence is set in law, and it reports to the legislature. It publishes its own macroeconomic and or fiscal forecasts and cost estimates of all new policy proposals.

The indicators on IFIs are not scored in the Open Budget Survey.

Methodology

- Only documents published and events, activities, or developments that took place through 31 December 2022 were assessed in the OBS 2023.
- The survey is based on a questionnaire completed in each country by an independent budget expert:

Uganda Debt Network (UDN)

info@udn.or.ug

- To further strengthen the research, each country's draft questionnaire is also reviewed by an anonymous independent expert, and in Uganda by a representative of the Ministry of Finance, Planning and Economic Development.
