Section Two: The Executive's Budget Proposal

Notes on abbreviations:

BY = budget year (year for which the budget proposals are being made)

BY+1 = one year beyond the budget year

BY-1 = one year before the budget year

Please mark your answer by placing the appropriate letter in the box to the right of the question. For all answers marked "not applicable/other," please provide a brief explanation indicating either why the answer choices provided are not applicable or why another response would be more appropriate.

The Executive's Budget Proposal
Estimates for the Budget Year and Beyond
1. Does the executive's budget or any supporting budget documentation present expenditures for the budget year that are classified by administrative unit (that is, by ministry, department, or agency)? <ol style="list-style-type: none"> All expenditures are classified by administrative unit. Expenditures are classified by administrative unit, but some small units are not shown separately. Expenditures are classified by administrative unit, but a significant number of units are not shown separately. No expenditures classified by administrative unit are presented. Not applicable/other (please comment). Citation: The final 2006 Budget Comment: Some expenditures (security related) are not classified. Peer Reviewer One Comment: Peer Reviewer Two Comment:	b
2. Does the executive's budget or any supporting budget documentation present expenditures for the budget year that are classified by functional classification? <ol style="list-style-type: none"> All expenditures are classified by functional classification, and the categorization is compatible with international standards. All expenditures are classified by functional classification, but the categorization is not compatible with international standards. Some, but not all, expenditures are classified by function. No expenditures classified by function are presented. Not applicable/other (please comment). Citation: Comment: Peer Reviewer One Comment: Peer Reviewer Two Comment:	a

3. Does the executive's budget or any supporting budget documentation present expenditures for the budget year that are classified by economic classification? <ol style="list-style-type: none"> All expenditures are classified by economic classification, and the categorization is compatible with international standards. All expenditures are classified by economic classification, but the categorization is not compatible with international standards. Some, but not all, expenditures are classified by economic classification. No expenditures classified by economic classification are presented. Not applicable/other (please comment). Citation: Comment: The government began to implement the government Finance Statistics Manual (GFSM) 2001 by presenting expenditures by economic classifications according to the new system. Interview with Dr. Ismail Zaghlol, Director of the General Budget Department. Peer Reviewer One Comment: Peer Reviewer Two Comment:	a
4. Does the executive's budget or any supporting budget documentation present expenditures for individual programs for the budget year? <ol style="list-style-type: none"> Program-level data are presented for all expenditures. Program-level data are presented for at least two-thirds of, but not all, expenditures. Program-level data are presented, but for less than two-thirds of expenditures. No program-level data are presented. Not applicable/other (please comment). Citation: See the note Comment: Program level data is not presented for Ministry of Defense (refer to page 69-71 of the 2006 Budget). The Ministry of Interior's budget lacks important details regarding the intelligence budget. Peer Reviewer One Comment: Peer Reviewer Two Comment:	b

5. In the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation, are estimates of the aggregate level of expenditure presented for a multi-year period (at least two years beyond the budget year)? a. Yes, multi-year estimates of aggregate expenditure are presented. b. No, multi-year estimates of aggregate expenditure are not presented. c. Not applicable/other (please comment). Citation: Comment: Publicly available budget documents do not provide any information on multi-year estimates. only information regarding previous years are presented in 2006 budget law. Researcher's Response to this Question was "b." Peer Reviewer One Comment: Some general estimates (no details) for key variables are presented as a percentage of GDP in the “general budget speech for 2006” for the period 2006-2008. Examples of these key variables are: total, current, and capital public expenditures, domestic and external (grants) public revenues, and finally the expected budget deficit. I didn’t change the answer because this info is in the “general budget speech” and it is not in the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation. For more details see the “general budget speech for 2006.” http://www.mof.gov.jo/LinkClick.aspx Peer Reviewer Two Comment: A more appropriate response to this question would be “a.” The 2006 budget document provides 2004 actual expenditure, 2005 and 2006 budget estimates expenditures IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer, "b" to maintain consistency with the guidance provided to researchers for correctly completing the questionnaire in the Guide to the Open Budget Questionnaire	b

14. Does the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation present the macroeconomic forecast upon which the budget projections are based? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. Yes, an extensive discussion of the macroeconomic forecast is presented, and key assumptions (such as inflation, real GDP growth, unemployment rate, and interest rates) are stated explicitly. b. Yes, the macroeconomic forecast is discussed and most of the key assumptions are stated explicitly, but some details are excluded. c. Yes, there is some discussion of the macroeconomic forecast (and/or the presentation of key assumptions), but it lacks important details. d. No, information related to the macroeconomic forecast is not presented. e. Not applicable/other (please comment). Citation: Comment: The budget speech by the Minister of Finance which is part of the Budget law (page 1-39) presents information on the GDP expected growth, main monetary policy indicators and FDI. 96. Does the executive seek input from the legislature when the executive shifts funds between administrative units (except when the amounts are below a certain minimal level specified in law or regulation)?
- Yes, the executive seeks approval from the legislature before shifting funds between administrative units.
 - Yes, the executive gives prior notification to the legislature before shifting funds, giving the legislature an opportunity to block or modify the proposed adjustment.
 - Yes, the executive seeks legislative approval, but only after the shift of funds has been implemented.
 - No, the executive shifts funds between administrative units without seeking input from the legislature, or the amount allowed under the law or by regulation is significantly large enough to undermine public scrutiny and accountability (please describe arrangements below).
 - Not applicable/other (please comment).

Citation:

Executive shifts funds between administrative units without seeking input from the legislature.

Comment:

Page 4 from the executive budget states that executives cannot shift capital expenditures to current expenditures. However, the parliament, Royal Medical Services, Public Security, and Civil defense are excluded from this conditionality. And in general shifting expenses from one program to another does not need the approval of the legislators.

Researcher's Response to this Question was "c."

Peer Reviewer One Comment: A more appropriate response to this question would be "d." The executive doesn't have to seek input in advance from the legislature when shifting funds between administrative units.

Peer Reviewer Two Comment:

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer, "d" to maintain consistency with the guidance provided to researchers for correctly completing the questionnaire in the Guide to the Open Budget Questionnaire.
