Section Two: The Executive's Budget Proposal

Notes on abbreviations:

BY = budget year (year for which the budget proposals are being made)

BY+1 = one year beyond the budget year

BY-1 = one year before the budget year

Note 1: The Open Budget Survey research process was carried out over a 12-month period and the final version of the Open Budget Questionnaires reflect decisions made after multiple rounds of discussions between Survey researchers, peer reviewers, and the International Budget Partnership (IBP) (in several countries these decisions also considered comments received from governments). When peer reviewers or governments agreed with the answers provided by researchers, they often provided no comment. Thus for many questions, the section in the questionnaire that should contain peer reviewer comments is left blank. However, if the government did not provide any comments to a question (because it did not dispute the answer), the section within the questionnaire that is meant to reflect government comments specifies the answer that the government agreed with (by default).

Since the IBP continued its discussions with the researchers even after receiving peer reviewer and government comments, for some questions these discussions resulted in a mutual decision to change the answers, even if the peer reviewers and governments agreed with the original answer provided by the researcher. Such changes may have happened as a result of:

1. A more consistent application of the Survey methodology;
2. New information identified by the researcher or by IBP that had a bearing on the answer for a particular question; or
3. Decisions made to ensure cross-country comparability of answers.

For more information on these changes for any question please write to info@internationalbudget.org.

Comment:

This refers to the Budget Speech presented in the introduction of the budget law.

Researcher Response to this Question was "c"

Peer Reviewer One Comment: A more appropriate response to this question would be "d." there no such macroeconomic forecast in the executive's budget or the supporting budget documentation. The macroeconomic forecast is presented only in the budget speech and in the pre-budget statement.

Peer Reviewer Two Comment: "c" is an appropriate response. This is because macroeconomic models are developed by the Ministry of Planning, but these models lack some details. Moreover high deficits limit the ability of the government in budgeting.

Researcher Response: I chose my answer because normally the MOF presents the expected growth rate and some key indicators. The response is therefore between "c" and "d."

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose response "c" because as per Peer Reviewer One's comment the macroeconomic forecast is presented in the budget speech as well though it is not very detailed.

Government Comment: A more appropriate response to this question would be "a." In the government budget and the supporting documents, detailed discussions are included for macro-economic assumptions e.g. inflation, GDP growth, etc.

Researcher Response to this Question was "a"

Peer Reviewer One Comment: "b" is an appropriate response since there is no narrative discussion and only quantitative estimates are provided.

Peer Reviewer Two Comment:

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose response "d" since no information regarding arrears is presented. The researcher's response pertains to the difference between planned expenditures and actual expenditures, but this does not constitute expenditure arrears. This question refers to the difference between actual expenditures incurred and actual expenditures paid.

Government Comment: Government did not dispute researcher's original answer "a," which the IBP modified for consistency purposes.

Peer Reviewer One Comment: A more appropriate response to this question would be "a." Yes the public has the right to access government information, including budget information according to the "Law to guarantee the right of access to information #47/2007: Article 17."

Peer Reviewer Two Comment:

Researcher Response: I chose my answer because the enforcement of this law is very weak.

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose response "c" because even though citizens have the right in law to access government information, according to the researcher's comment citizens are generally not able to obtain this information in practice.

Government Comment: A more appropriate response to this question would be "a." By law citizens are entitled to view governmental information on the Public Budget.
