The Executive’s Budget Proposal

Estimates for the Budget Year and Beyond

1. Does the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation present expenditures for the budget year that are classified by administrative unit (that is, by ministry, department, or agency)?

   a. All expenditures are classified by administrative unit.
   b. Expenditures are classified by administrative unit, but some small units are not shown separately.
   c. Expenditures are classified by administrative unit, but a significant number of units are not shown separately.
   d. No expenditures classified by administrative unit are presented.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

   Citation and/or comment: Information can be found in the document entitled “Functional, Economic and Administrative Classification of the Public Budget for the Year 2005: Budget Expenditures,” attached to Part I of the budget proposal for the year 2005.

   Peer Reviewer ONE Comment:

   Peer Reviewer TWO Comment:

2. Does the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation present expenditures for the budget year that are classified by functional classification?

   a. All expenditures are classified by functional classification, and the categorization is compatible with international standards.
   b. All expenditures are classified by functional classification, but the categorization is not compatible with international standards.
   c. Some, but not all, expenditures are classified by function.
   d. No expenditures classified by function are presented.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

   Citation and/or comment: Information can be found in the document entitled “Functional, Economic and Administrative Classification of the Public Budget for the Year 2005: budget expenditures,” attached to Part I of the budget proposal for the year 2005. When the International Monetary Fund’s (IMF) Government Finance Statistics (GFS) was referenced, the functional classification shown in budget proposal does not meet the GFS’s requirements.

   Peer Reviewer TWO Comment:
3. Does the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation present expenditures for the budget year that are classified by economic classification?

   a. All expenditures are classified by economic classification, and the categorization is compatible with international standards.
   b. All expenditures are classified by economic classification, but the categorization is not compatible with international standards.
   c. Some, but not all, expenditures are classified by economic classification.
   d. No expenditures classified by economic classification are presented.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Citation and/or comment: Information can be found in the document entitled “Functional, Economic and Administrative Classification of the Public Budget for the Year 2005: budget expenditures,” attached to Part 1 of the budget proposal for the year 2005. When the IMF’s Government Finance Statistics (GFS) was referenced, the functional classification shown in the budget proposal does not meet the GFS’s requirements.

Researcher Response to Peer Reviewer: We do not agree with Peer Reviewer One’s comments because of the absence of Commonwealth of Independent States’ (CIS) standards for classification of state expenses. As we know there are only international standards presented by the IMF. In our case, there is just CIS adaptation.

Peer Reviewer ONE Comment: The economic classification does not meet a number of international standards. The classification is prepared based on Commonwealth of Independent States (CIS) standards.

Peer Reviewer TWO Comment:
4. Does the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation present expenditures for individual programs for the budget year?

   a. Program-level data are presented for all expenditures.
   b. Program-level data are presented for at least two-thirds of, but not all, expenditures.
   c. Program-level data are presented, but for less than two-thirds of expenditures.
   d. No program-level data are presented.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Citation and/or comment:

The researchers marked the answer as “d.” Expenditures are only classified by functional, administrative and economic classification. There is no classification by program level.

Peer Reviewer ONE Comment: “c.” Expenditures are classified for individual programs such as Education, Health, and Science. 3 year-programs, such as the “Health Development Program 2006-2009” are approved.

Peer Reviewer TWO Comment:

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer “d” to maintain the consistency of the assumptions used in selecting answers across the countries.

Citation and/or comment: Information can be found in the document entitled “Comparative Table of Indicators of Public Budgets for years 2003-2005,” attached to Part III of the budget proposal for the year 2005. Since this question is about outcomes, we can say that such figures are presented in the document mentioned above.

The budget proposal for every year contains information on public debt for the first three quarters of the current year. For example, in budget proposal for 2005, public debt is presented for January-September of 2004. No information on forthcoming borrowings and payments is presented to calculate the amount of the debt as on the end of the current year (on the beginning of the new budget year). So we can say that there are no actual outcomes for any of previous years. Although the information for BY-1 is incomplete, actual outcomes for BY-2 can also be included in the budget documents. If that is the case, leave as A.

Comprehensiveness

35. Does the executive’s budget or any supporting budget documentation present information for at least the budget year on extra-budgetary funds?

- a. Yes, extensive information on extra-budgetary funds is presented, including both a narrative discussion and quantitative estimates.
- b. Yes, information is presented, highlighting key extra-budgetary funds, but some details are excluded.
- c. Yes, some information is presented, but it lacks important details.
- d. No, information on extra-budgetary funds is not presented.
- e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Citation and/or comment: There are two extra-budgetary funds in Azerbaijan. The State Social Protection Fund and the State Oil Fund. Budget documentation contains detailed information about the former. This information is shown in the document entitled “Draft Law of the Azerbaijan Republic on Budget of State Social Protection Fund for the year 2005,” attached to Part IV of the budget proposal for the year 2005. For the State Petroleum Fund, there is information only at the aggregate level of revenues and expenditure reflected on page 86 of the document entitled “The Azerbaijan Republic Social and Economic Development Conception and Forecast Indicators for 2005-2008,” attached to Part I of the budget proposal for the year 2005.

Only general figures are presented. For instance, transfers from state budget to State Social Protection Fund are generally shown, but no information regarding where and how they will be spent is provided.

For example, the government is going to give $47 million to Azerbaijan Airlines, a state owned company, to improve its aircraft depot. Baku Metro is going to be given $10.5 million to improve its train depot. Information regarding the exact use of these funds, such as how many aircrafts or trains will be acquired, and the cost for these vehicles is missing.

58. Does the executive make available to the public an explanation of the conditions associated with assistance from international financial institutions (IFI)?

   a. Yes, extensive information on conditions associated with IFI assistance is presented, including both a narrative discussion and quantitative estimates.
   b. Yes, information is presented, but some details are excluded.
   c. Yes, some information is presented, but it lacks important details.
   d. No, information on conditions associated with IFI assistance is not presented.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Citation and/or comment:

The researcher’s response to this question was “a.” Everyone has easy access to IFI reports. For example all staff in PFMC can get any information from different sites of IFI.

Peer Reviewer ONE Comment: The answer should be “b.” The government of Azerbaijan does not present all conditions of such assistance; there is not a regular responsibility for the government to provide such information. The public access to IFI reports is limited.

Peer Reviewer TWO Comment:

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer “b” to maintain the consistency of the assumptions used in selecting answers across the countries. While transparency in Azerbaijan surrounding IFI assistance has improved in recent years, civil society was denied access upon request of draft country strategy papers, i.e. as the country strategies were under development, from the World Bank and EBRD as such disclosure was not approved by the government. It is difficult to find out specific details on which state assets to be commercialized/shares publicly offered were “required/strongly encouraged” by the IMF/World Bank/IFC – these processes are far from being transparent to the public.

In addition, the World Bank’s first Poverty Reduction Support Credit was held up for many months (maybe even more than a year) due to the Bank requiring the Azeri government to first raise energy tariffs – such a “conditionality” was not necessarily shared with the public – though it made its way informally into newspapers. Also, the latest Article IV consultation report from the IMF is still not disclosed on the IMF’s website. The Article IV consultation was completed in April. The IMF encourages countries to disclose these reports, but it is based on individual government approval (FYI: most IMF member countries now disclose it). Azerbaijan disclosed the 2004 Article IV but it is not clear if they are just lagging behind or if they are not disclosing it because as of this year they now no longer have an IMF program, which puts more pressure on them for transparency.
59. Does the executive make available to the public an explanation of the conditions associated with assistance from donor countries?

   a. Yes, extensive information on conditions associated with donor country assistance is presented, including both a narrative discussion and quantitative estimates.
   b. Yes, information is presented, but some details are excluded.
   c. Yes, some information is presented, but it lacks important details.
   d. No, information on conditions associated with donor country assistance is not presented.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

   Citation and/or comment:

   The researcher’s response to this question was “a.” Information on that is released by donor countries. However, very little information is presented classifying the sources of donor aid and very general information is provided on this issue.

   Peer Reviewer ONE Comment: A more appropriate response would be “c.” The government of Azerbaijan does not present all conditions of such assistances and there is no law requiring the government to present this information. The public has little access to donor countries reports and since it is the considered government’s prerogative to release this information, little information is provided by donor countries.

   Peer Reviewer TWO Comment:

   IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer “c” to maintain the consistency of the assumptions used in selecting answers across the countries. Also refer to IBP comment for question 58.
60. Does the executive make available to the public a summary that describes the budget and its proposals?

a. Yes, it provides a summary that is very informative.
b. Yes, it provides a summary that is somewhat informative.
c. Yes, but the summary is not very informative.
d. No, it does not provide a summary.
e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Citation and/or comment:

The researchers marked the answer as “c.” The budget summary is not very informative.

Peer Reviewer ONE Comment:

Peer Reviewer TWO Comment: A more appropriate response to this question would be “b.” The summary is not released as a stand alone document, but the minister makes a speech about the budget and its proposals on TV channels such as ANS and Aztv, and his speech is published in newspapers such as People’s and Azerbaijan Newspaper and Azertaj State Information Agency. So it can be considered a budget summary. But he gives very common information on budget expenditures, revenues and state debt. Therefore we prefer to choose “b” as the response.

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer "c" to maintain the consistency of the assumptions used in selecting answers across the countries.

61. Does the executive publish a “citizens budget” or some non-technical presentation intended for a wide audience that describes the budget and its proposals?

a. Yes, it publishes a citizens budget that is very informative.
b. Yes, it publishes a citizens budget that is somewhat informative.
c. Yes, but the citizens budget is not very informative.
d. No, it does not publish a citizens budget.
e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Citation and/or comment: A citizens budget is not published in Azerbaijan.

62. Does the executive make available to the public non-technical definitions of terms used in the budget and other budget-related documents (for instance, in a glossary)?

- c. Yes, some definitions are provided, but it lacks important details.
- d. No, definitions are not provided.
- e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

- c. Yes, but the summary of the budget process is not very informative.
- d. No, it does not include a summary of the budget process.
- e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Citation and/or comment:

The researchers marked the answer as “d.” A summary is not published in Azerbaijan.

Peer Reviewer ONE Comment:

Peer Reviewer TWO Comment: A more appropriate response to this question would be “b.” Information on budget preparation, execution, reporting and auditing can be found in paragraphs 11-26 of the document entitled “Law of the Azerbaijan Republic on Budgetary System.” There is general information about the budget process in this document. More detailed information on the budget process is reflected in another document entitled “Formulation and execution rules of State budget, 2004,” but it is not released to the public. The first document describing the budget process can be considered a summary, but it lacks some information.

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer “d” to maintain the consistency of the assumptions used in selecting answers across the countries. As pointed out by the peer reviewer, in Azerbaijan the detailed budget summary is not released to the public.
64. Do citizens have the right in law to access government information, including budget information?

   a. Yes, the right has been codified into law, and citizens are generally able in practice to obtain government information, including budget information.
   b. Yes, the right has been codified into law, but it is sometimes not possible for citizens in practice to obtain government information, including budget information.
   c. Yes, the right has been codified into law, but it is frequently or always impossible in practice to obtain access to government information, including budget information.
   d. No, the right to access government information has not been codified into law, or this right does not include access to budget information.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

   Citation and/or comment: According to the Constitution of the Azerbaijan Republic, each citizen has the right to obtain the budget information upon request. However, in practice, it is very difficult to come by budget information without government officials’ willingness to provide it to society.

65. Are citizens able in practice to obtain financial information on expenditures for individual programs in a format that is more highly disaggregated than that which appears in the executive’s budget proposal if they request it (for example, from a ministry or agency)?

   b. In practice, highly disaggregated information is available to the public for programs representing at least two-thirds of, but not all, expenditures.
   c. In practice, highly disaggregated information is available to the public for programs representing less than two-thirds of expenditures.
   d. In practice, no highly disaggregated expenditure information is available.

- a. Yes, a detailed timetable is released to the public.
- b. Yes, a timetable is released, but some details are excluded.
- c. Yes, a timetable is released, but it lacks important details.
- d. No, a timetable is not issued to the public.
- e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Citation and/or comment:

The researchers marked the answer as “d.” A common timetable is codified in the Law of the Azerbaijan Republic on Budgetary System. However, this timetable is not complete. There are several steps to the budget process and their timetables are not released to the public.

Peer Reviewer ONE Comment:

Peer Reviewer TWO Comment: A more appropriate response to this question would be “b.” Some information on the executive’s timetable is codified in the Law of the Azerbaijan Republic on Budgetary System. For example, submitting dates of budget documents to relevant government agencies (local organizations, Ministry of Finance, Cabinet of Ministries and Parliament) and each of the Ministry of Finance’s steps are reflected in this document. However, other agencies’ steps are not shown explicitly.

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer “d” to maintain the consistency of the assumptions used in selecting answers across the countries. As pointed out by the peer reviewer, in Azerbaijan a comprehensive timetable is not released to the public.

Citation and/or comment:

The researcher’s response to this question was “c.” The budget proposal is only discussed by parliamentary commissions on economic and social policy; not all commissions are permitted to participate. Journalists, one per paper, are allowed to report on these hearings. However, the hearings are not often broadcast to the public via television. The commissions hold meetings with members of a few executive agencies prior to the budget discussions in Parliament.

Peer Reviewer ONE Comment: Answer should be “d.” No public hearings are held. Only general information is submitted to journalists without fielding their questions.

Peer Reviewer TWO Comment:

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer “d” to maintain the consistency of the assumptions used in selecting answers across the countries. To be considered a public hearing, any member of the public should have easy access to the meeting. Since the government restricts access to these meetings in Azerbaijan, they cannot be considered to be public meetings for the purposes of this survey.
78. Does a legislative committee (or committees) hold public hearings on the individual budgets of central government administrative units (that is, ministries, departments, and agencies) in which testimony from the public is heard?

   c. Yes, the committees release reports, but they are not very informative.

   The researcher's response to this question was “c.” Information on public hearings is publicized in a parliamentary newsletter called the Azerbaijan Newspaper and is broadcast through state television. These reports are highly general and lack important details. The legislative committee prepares the press release for the media and does not have the access to these discussions.

   Peer Reviewer ONE Comment: A more appropriate answer would be “d.” No reports are released to the public, and only general information is presented in the table version.

   Peer Reviewer TWO Comment:

   IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer “d” to maintain the consistency of the assumptions used in selecting answers across the countries. To be considered a public hearing, any member of the public should have easy access to the meeting. Since the government restricts access to these meetings in Azerbaijan, they cannot be considered to be public meetings for the purposes of this survey.
80. Does the executive present more details or provide a better explanation of any budget proposal, if members of the legislature (including from minority parties) request such information?

   a. The executive responds to such legislative requests, and it generally provides an appropriate and timely response.
   b. The executive responds to such legislative requests, but its responses are sometimes not appropriate or timely.
   c. The executive responds to such legislative requests, but its responses are typically not appropriate or timely.
   d. The executive responds selectively or ignores such legislative requests.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Citation and/or comment:

The researchers marked the answer as “c.” In Azerbaijan executive power has informal supremacy over legislatures. That is why sometimes there might be some delays while getting responses. The executive explanation on it very flexible and limited.

Peer Reviewer ONE Comment: The answer should be “c.” The executive does not respond to a number of questions, such as those regarding military and national security expenditures.

Peer Reviewer TWO Comment: A more appropriate response to this question would be “a.” The executive always responds to legislative requests in a timely manner. According to item 11.17 of the documents entitled “Law of Azerbaijan Republic on Budgetary System,” the Ministry of Finance has authority over other budget funding organizations to require financial documents within the desired time frame. If required documents are not presented in a timely manner, they will be held accountable by the Ministry of Finance. Therefore, efforts are concerted to present all requested documents in a timely manner. In practice, the Ministry of Finance also presents all requested documents to Parliament within the given timetable. This is evidenced that the budget proposal is usually approved by the legislature by the date stated in the budget guidelines. In Azerbaijan, the executive has no informal supremacy over the legislature.

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer “c” to maintain the consistency of the assumptions used in selecting answers across the countries.
81. Is the legislature (or the appropriate legislative committee) given information for the budget year on the spending of secret items relating to, for instance, national security and military intelligence?

   a. Yes, the legislature is provided extensive information on all spending on secret items.
   b. Yes, the legislature is provided information on spending on secret items, but some details are excluded.
   c. Yes, the legislature is provided some information on spending on secret items, but it lacks important details.

b. The procurement of goods and services frequently followed an open and competitive process in practice, but there were some reported instances of irregularities.
c. The procurement of goods and service followed an open and competitive process in many instances, but there were significant reported examples of irregularities.
d. No, the procurement process was not open and competitive in practice.

Citation and/or comment:

The researchers marked the answer as “d.” There have not been any public announcements for public bids for contracts in any newspapers or other media during the past year. Only companies that are close to government officials can be involved in the procurement process.

Peer Reviewer ONE Comment:

Peer Reviewer TWO Comment: A more appropriate response to this question would be “b.” According to item 20 of the document entitled “The decree of the President of Azerbaijan Republic on the implementation of the Law of Azerbaijan Republic on budgetary system for the year 2005,” the State Agency on Procurement must oversee the adherence to transparency and conformance to the legislation regarding federal procurements of products and services of relevant entities, enterprises and organizations and must report to the president and the Cabinet of Ministers twice a year. The procurement procedures are laid out in items 26 and 27 and Chapter 4 of the law of Azerbaijan Republic on State Procurement. Therefore, all state organizations must make public announcements on federal procurements in newspapers such as Azerbaijan Newspaper (usually listed on the last page of this newspaper). We have examples of such newspaper announcements from the Ministry of Education and the Ministry of Health. However, the results of such bids are not always announced.

IBP Comment: IBP editors chose answer “d” to maintain the consistency of the assumptions used in selecting answers across the countries. Azerbaijan is ranked 137th in the 2005 Corruption Perception Index issued by Transparency International.

c. Supplemental budgets are generally equal to more than 5 percent, but less than 10 percent, of the original budget.

101. When does the legislature approve the expenditure of contingency funds or other funds for which no specific purpose was identified in the budget?

   a. Expenditures are approved before the funds are expended, or contingency funds or other funds with no specific purposes are not included in the budget.
   b. Expenditures are approved after the funds are expended, but before the end of the fiscal year.
   c. Expenditures are approved after the end of the fiscal year, for example in the next budget.
   d. Such expenditure takes place without legislative approval.
   e. Not applicable/other (please comment).

Citation and/or comment: There is a Reserve Fund in the Public Budget of the Azerbaijan Republic. According to Item 6.2 of the Law of the Azerbaijan Republic on Budgetary System, no more than 5% of the revenues are accumulated in this fund. In case of contingency expenses, the government is free to use these funds without legislative approval. In addition, a President Fund was created to finance contingency expenses. According to the Law of the Azerbaijan Republic on Budgetary System, no more than 2% of the expenditures are accumulated in this fund.    Peer Reviewer TWO Comment: According to Item 20.7 of the Law of Azerbaijan Republic on Budgetary System, the Ministry of Finance publishes quarterly and year-end reports in the media. But the Ministry of Finance has interpreted ‘media’ to mean publishing reports in its own journal on finance. This journal can be obtained only by paying a subscription, so we do not consider this document as available to the public. The Ministry’s journal subscription fee is $65 for a year ($5.40 for a month), and any citizen can be a subscriber to this journal. But at the same time, to give a comparison to the subscription fee, the minimum [monthly] salary is $32 and average salary is $100 for a month.
