

This was crucial in two ways: first, to make clear that the coalition was not willing to negotiate agreements behind closed doors; second, to keep the issue current.

In addition, some symbolic activities were developed. For instance, every year a public vigil for the persons that have died of HIV/AIDS takes place. HIV/ AIDS organizations have public stands and distribute information. The coalition carried a stand on the case, demanding official clarification and the devolution of the 30 million pesos for HIV/AIDS programs. A year later, while the legal process was still pending, a “citizen’s tribunal” on the case was put together, to talk about the actions the government should have taken, and that were still pending.
